1. Would not be opposed to playing a flash game
  2. QS Monkeyland; King of fruits; Style is important, and the quality of the controls than use of the website
  3. Relaxing game is far more important, especially since its a browser game
1. Multiplayer is not important
  2. A more competitive, strategy aspect. Maybe like only being able to color adjacent colors. Only allow a certain number of moves with a color before it changes.
  3. Music would be very nice, SFX would be nice have to be "simple but crisp"
  4. Workshop would be cool, the community aspect of finding new paintings would be nice and probably used.
  5. UI has to be good! If it's not super simple it has to be interesting and pop.
  6. Theme has to be really universal across the entire website
  7. If sound effects and music are very involved, there must be a mute button / slider.
